

GILEAD BUDGET WILL BE CUT

Improvement Program Will Be Postponed as Tax Receipts Decline.

Special To The Star.
MT. GILEAD, Sept. 16.—The receipt of $11,000 from the June tax distribution was reported to city council last night by Dr. D. B. Burton, clerk. Of this $3,500 was placed in the sinking fund, $500 in the sanitary fund, $700 in the general fund and $3,500 in the service fund.

It is reported that various proposed improvements must be postponed because the budget submitted to the county commissioners will be cut down before approval, due to less tax receipts this year. Because of an injunction prohibiting the use of the present dump grounds, council has been investigating proposed sites for another dump and are about to close a deal with a property owner in the southwest part of town for the use of certain grounds for one year.

H. D. Colmery representing C. H. Lewis stated that Lewis would arrive here today to start the installation of the electrolytic chemical disposal plant to be used six months free of cost to the city. A new roof for the west end disposal plant was authorized.

SLIGHT THINGS cause important decisions. An aged Greek philosopher felt, leaving his class. He killed himself because he was humiliated.

A man with a duel ahead of him in the morning killed himself, dreading the duel.

Thousands of young men kill themselves when refused by some young woman, although dozens of others are much like her.

In New York, a man, unemployed, and discouraged, woke up to find that his shoes had been stolen. He tried three times to kill himself.

He could not apply for jobs with feet bare. . . . CONGRESSMAN Hamilton Fish Jr., earnest young American and chairman of the Communist investigating committee, was annoyed when Communists sang "Solidarity Forever," and said to them, "If you don't like it here why don't you go back where you came from?"

That is not a sound economic argument. It would be better to say, "If you don't like things here, change them legally, but only if you can get a majority to agree with you."

Patrick Henry, Washington, Jefferson, and others, didn't like conditions in America, but they didn't go back "where they came from," fortunately.

Dissatisfaction is always useful when it is law-abiding.

MOTORIST ROBBED

Highwayman Slug Driver of Car, Take $21,000 in Jewels.

By The Associated Press
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 16.—Edward Knoblock of New Castle, Pa., was robbed of jewelry worth $21,000 by two men who knocked him unconscious during a roadside holdup near here early today.

Knoblock, who was enroute to New Castle from Elvira, said he was forced to stop between Niles and Youngstown because of motor trouble. A large car drew up beside his automobile and two men emerged from it, held him up and knocked him down when he resisted, Knoblock said.

The loot consisted of two emerald rings and a diamond stud-pin.

ing the power to regulate the liquor traffic in the hands of the states.

Bulkeley contended that inasmuch as the prohibition question "cuts across party lines" is not a party issue and that since the states by ratifying the 18th amendment, had surrendered their right to control the liquor traffic within their own borders, it therefore was no longer a state issue. He also pointed out that both parties ignored the question in their state platforms.

"Yet in the minds of the people national prohibition is a burning issue," Bulkeley said. "and no man can with good conscience be a candidate for either branch of the federal congress without making his views on this great question clear to his constituents and understand exactly where he stands."

Bulkeley also discussed economic conditions of the country, refraining from placing full responsibility for the business depression on the shoulders of the Hoover administration, though he contended that they should accept responsibility for their claims of responsibility for past periods of prosperity.

"One would think that they might at least have learned the lesson that economic forces continue to operate without regard to who sits in the White House," he said.

PLANS FOR PACIFIC FLIGHT DOUBTFUL

Bromley's Long Cherished Ambition To Fail from Lack of Funds.

By The Associated Press
OMINATO, AGOMORI PREFECTURE, Japan, Sept. 16.—The fear they might be unable to attempt another non-stop airplane crossing of the Pacific from Japan to Tacoma, Wash., was expressed today by Harold Bromley and Harold Gatty.

Bromley, Tacoma aviator, who for more than a year had sought to claim for himself the distinction of being the first man to span the Pacific in a heavier-than-air craft, said lack of finances might compel him to abandon the flight.

Gatty, an Australian, who joined Bromley in the capacity of co-pilot and navigator, was frank in expressing his belief the flight must be abandoned. He concluded a narrative of Bromley's latest venture, of which he was a partner, with the statement:

"Personally I think another attempt at present is out of the question. The typhoon season is here and we cannot hope again for conditions as good as those existing when we left Samshiro beach Sunday."

Gatty revealed a damaged exhaust pipe and not a leaky gasoline feed line which caused the return of the Vermilion monoplane "City of Tacoma" to Japan after a flight of almost 25 hours, during which the plane traveled 12,000 miles towards its goal.

MARION PASTOR AT MEETING

Rev. Groves Attends Columbus Session To Aid in Arranging Program.

Rev. George E. Groves, pastor of Central Christian church, was in Columbus yesterday as a representative of the Marion County Ministerial association at a meeting of the program committee for the twelfth annual Ohio Pastors' convention to be held in Columbus Jan. 18-22, under the auspices of the Ohio Council of Churches.

Preliminary arrangements were made for a convention program centering about the theme, "The Technique of an Efficient Pastor."

In keeping with this subject, a series of discussion topics was outlined, dealing with problems that the pastor meets in his everyday work. Rev. Groves said this morning.

Speakers are being chosen with a view to their ability, based on their own experiences, to help clergymen develop greater effectiveness as pastors, he said.

Bishop Frederick Fisher, who a few months ago resigned from active service as a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church in Indiana, in order to return to the pastorate, and who now has charge of a church in Ann Arbor, Mich., will be one of the principal speakers.

Dr. John Timothy Stone, for more than 20 years pastor of Fourth Presbyterian church in Chicago, has accepted an invitation to the convention. Since 1927 he has been president of the Presbyterian Theological seminary in Chicago.

The Ohio Pastors' convention, of which Rev. Charles W. Brashares of Dayton is chairman for 1931, had an enrollment of 1,200 in recent years.

Six names remained on the original venire of 65 prospective jurors.

According to a confession signed by Massa and admitted to the court records during his trial, McCartney was the alleged driver of the car which carried two other men to the scene of the robbery the night of June 27.

McCartney's mother and sister attended the trial yesterday. Jurors are expected to visit the scene of the fatal shooting Wednesday morning following opening arguments by counsel late today or early tomorrow. The state will put its first witnesses on the stand sometime Wednesday.

Government May Stand Despite Adverse Vote

By The Associated Press
BERLIN, Sept. 16.—Chancellor Bruening today cancelled his scheduled out-of-town visits and began what was taken by his immediate associates as a strenuous campaign of negotiations with party leaders toward obtaining a workable majority for the government.

Dr. Bruening has received definite pledges of support from President Hindenburg and a considerable number of influential politicians and the impression was gained by observers today that his position would be strong.

Supporters of the Hindenburg-Bruening government which has been ruling Germany since the dissolution of the Reichstag declared emphatically today that the administration would not take up the question of resigning because of the outcome of Sunday's election.

President Loeb of the Reichstag, after a conference with Chancellor Bruening, issued a call for the first meeting of the new Reichstag October 13.

TAX ISSUE LEADS, WHITE DECLARES

Democratic Nominee Says Cut in State Expenses Is Urgent Need.

said: "I assert here and now that the present state administration with all its self-praised and prolific promises is a mere hollow shell, glided without and empty within, and that its chief characteristics are efforts by Governor Cooper to deceive the public while his subordinates play politics and raid the state treasury."

Charges Extravagance
Charging that Cooper two years ago had promised a "business administration" together with decrease in cost of government, White declared that "not only have these promises failed utterly of fulfillment and the confidence of the taxpayers been betrayed, but we now observe on every hand the most wasteful and extravagant administration in the state's history."

White said general operating expenses during the first year of Cooper's administration were $4,740,337 above the last year of Governor Donahue while expenses for all purposes were $9,128,418 in excess. He declared indications are that 1930 expenses will "far exceed" those of last year.

"Under the 'slap sum' method of making appropriations, hordes of new employees have secretly been added in all departments of state government, under control of the governor, without publicity and without the knowledge of the taxpayers. Secretly, salaries of political favorites have been increased to inordinate amounts."

Referring to the penitentiary fire last April, that cost the lives of 321 convicts, White virtually placed responsibility for the tragedy on the shoulders of Republicans who, he said, had blocked plans of former Democratic governors to establish adequate facilities.

Criticism Road Program
Little relief has been given the rural residents through improvement of township roads from the proceeds of the additional one-cent gasoline tax levied by the last assembly, White said. "While tourist traveling the main highways have received the lion's share of the funds, the majority of farmers have picked the crumbs," he declared.

With respect to law enforcement, White said that "so long as they remain upon the status quo, law enforcement shall be my purpose to enforce all laws, without regard to politics or hope of reelection."

PUTS DEPRESSION FIRST

Economic Condition Predominant Issue, Duffy Asserts

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 16.—The present economic condition of the country was declared to be the predominant issue of the campaign by T. J. Duffy, chairman of the Democratic state platform convention, in his address to the convention here today.

"The distress of the nation, due to the depression in consequence of the lack of employment in the industry, with consequent poverty and suffering that is being inflicted upon the people makes the predominant issue of this campaign," Duffy declared.

For years, he said, the Republican party "has falsely posed as the author of prosperity," retaining power as a pretense through alleged false claims of its propaganda who claim even the "blessings of God" and the results of scientific endeavor as blessings coming from Republican rule. "But for more than a year now we have been facing the most serious and far-reaching depression the nation has witnessed in forty years."

FINDS ARCTIC RELICS OF 85 YEARS AGO

Explorer Visualizes Death of Sir John Franklin and His 128 Men.

By The Associated Press
EDMONTON, Alta., Sept. 16.—Returning from his flight to King William Island, Major L. T. Burwash, Canadian explorer, today advanced the theory that Sir John Franklin and his 128 men perished on the Arctic 85 years ago while backtracking to their ships after a vain attempt to march overland to civilization.

This theory, he said, was substantiated by the discovery of sites of camps of the lost explorers and groups of graves. Relics of the expedition, broadcloth, tent material and rope, were recovered. No trace was found of the Franklin ships, the Erebus and Terror, believed to have been wrecked along the western shore of the island.

In addition to his flight to King William Island, Major Burwash and his pilot, W. E. Gilbert, mapped more than 2,000 miles of coastline within the Arctic circle, made an inspection of copper claims in the far north and landed at the magnetic shifting of the pole.

Lewis at first was quizzed in connection with the murder here the night previously of Raymond Steele, North Main street filling station operator, but his mind was checked and he was absolved of any connection in the slaying.

Alli Said To Be True
The ally, however, consisted of a confession that Lewis and his companion both were robbing a store in Cleveland at the time of the murder here and an investigation showed their story to be true, according to Donahue.

Lewis escaped from the county jail here when he learned he was to be questioned in regard to the Steele murder, but was captured within 48 hours near his home in Fostoria. He had walked all the way, hiding in cornfields during the day and following railroads during the night to avoid detection. His shoes were worn through when he was caught at a Fostoria hotel camp. He has been in jail here since.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 16.—Admission that he is Theodore (Ted) Giesling, but denied that he knew anything of the Lingle murder in Chicago was made here today by a suspect picked up on a vagrancy charge.

Chicago detectives and an Indiana state policeman identified the suspect as Giesling. Then George Williams, Chicago detective brought up a man who said he saw Jack Lingle, Chicago reporter, shot down and saw the slayer flee.

New Way To Produce Vitamin D.

Scientists in the basic research laboratory of the University of Cincinnati have announced the discovery of a new method by which to produce vitamin D in plant life. Vitamin D, it may be said, is the health-building agency in certain foods, such as milk, olive oil and cod liver oil, for the production of which reliance has heretofore been placed on the rays of the sun or artificially-produced ultra-violet rays. Such a discovery may be classed as valuable.

The University of Cincinnati scientists announce that the same result may be attained artificially by certain X-rays. Scientifically expressed, their development is "in effect a wide extension of the field of 'artificial sunshine' deep down into the zone of invisibility that usually have far different effects" than the invisible or "tan" rays of the sun.
The ordinary X-rays, they explain, have been considered too deadly. "Only about a billionth of an inch long, they frequently destroy the substances through which they pass; especially is this the case with living substances." Ultraviolet rays are much longer and far less dangerous. Now between these ordinary X-rays and the ultra-violet rays are certain rays known as soft X-rays, the length of which is about a millionth of an inch long, and these are the rays by which the Cincinnati scientists have found that vitamin D can be produced.

Experimentation has demonstrated that they act the same on plant or animal life as the sun's ultra-violet rays or the ultra-violet rays produced artificially. Rats having rickets, a sunshine-deficiency disease common to children, being fed on foods treated with the "soft X-rays" were entirely cured in about three weeks, which, the scientists making the discovery announce, is just about the time required for cures by vitamin D produced by the older methods. In fact, the scientists found the action practically the same all along the line of their experimentation.

The advantage to be gained by the discovery of the new method is that it simplifies the artificial production of vitamin D by widening the ray field for its production and should cheapen it. Whether it will be another matter, but in any event, the more ways in which health-building agencies may be produced, the greater the benefit to suffering humanity, and thus to mankind generally.

Illinois Points the Way.

Falling in its efforts to secure the enactment by the Illinois general assembly of certain bills proposed for the modernization of the criminal code of that state, the Cook county judicial advisory council, made up of the most prominent jurists and attorneys of Chicago, is now seeking to accomplish the same end by securing supreme court decisions in test cases, and the outlook is that its efforts will prove successful.

Some weeks since one of the judges of the criminal court up there, with the consent of the county prosecutor, permitted a defendant in a felony case to waive trial by jury and submit to trial before the judge in question, who found for the accused. The prosecutor at once began a mandamus proceeding to compel the judge to expunge his findings.
The supreme court, giving the matter immediate attention, upheld the judge's decision, and, as a consequence, felony cases may now be tried to the court in Illinois, with the consent of the accused, which will work to expedite greatly the disposal of felony cases, for it goes without the need of demonstration that, aside from the time taken in examining talesmen and impaneling and charging a jury, there is a decided time saving for the reason that attorneys trying matters to courts would not think of resorting to methods which are frequently employed by them in endeavoring to influence juries.

Now a test case is before the supreme court, carried up in much the same way, in which it sought to determine the right of a jury to be judge of the law. When the test case was called, early this week, and the attorney for defendant attempted to instruct the jury that it was the judge of the law as well as the facts in the case, the county prosecutor raised objection, holding that the Illinois practice is obsolete and setting out that the court should be able early in the case to determine what points of law are involved and to dispose of the matter accordingly without wasting time by going through a trial when it is known in advance that a guilty verdict would not and could not be sustained. The objection of the prosecutor being sustained, the necessary steps were at once taken to get the matter before the supreme court.

It is estimated that dispensing with juries with the consent of the accused will so speed up felony cases that two may be tried in the time it ordinarily takes to try one to a jury, and should the supreme court sustain the Cook county criminal court in sustaining the prosecutor's objection in the second test case, the work of trying felony cases in Illinois will be amazingly simplified, making it possible to handle many such matters in the time devoted to one under the existing practice.

From the foregoing, it is plain that the Illinois criminal code and Illinois practice are far more obsolete than those of our own state, but our criminal procedure is far from ideal.
There is yet in our own state great need for modernization. Perhaps Ohio might profit by adopting the Illinois method of attaining modernization of its procedure in felony proceedings.

Constitution Week.

This week will be observed widely throughout the nation as "Constitution" week. September 17 will be the 143d anniversary of the completion and signing of the Constitution of the United States.

The purpose of "Constitution" week observation is to reawaken the civic spirit that lies dormant in every individual. It is hoped that a few moments of thought concerning the value of the constitution will help to keep alive a strong public support for the purposes set forth in the preamble, and closer adherence to the plan provided in the original constitution for setting up and administering a representative federal government.

It is of a certain significance that "Constitution" week is sponsored very largely by a private organization. There is no national holiday, merely a persistent, well-directed effort by a handful of citizens impressed with the soundness of the nation's structural foundation to keep it in repair and to encourage more extensive regard for its cardinal principles. By providing the stimulus to reawaken the civic spirit of many indifferent citizens, the organization is performing a valuable service.

Editorial Opinion.

DO YOU WANT TO BE A NAPOLEON?

A chest of forgotten medical papers, recently discovered at Napoleon's favorite retreat, the Chateau de Malmaison, throws considerable new light on the life of the great Bonaparte.
Dr. Thomas van Borne, who has classified the data, thinks he has found the secret of Napoleon's "genius," which is explained as due to illness that prevented him from sleeping and drove him to excesses of concentration to overcome pain.

From the record it seems that Napoleon was abnormal as a child and suffered from ill health from his sixth year. At ten he developed asthma. Later he contracted tuberculosis. All his life he was wracked by terrible headaches, and much of the time he was tormented by indigestion.

Despite these ailments, it seems that Napoleon paid not the slightest attention to the advice of doctors or friends. He swallowed cracked ice when he had stomach attacks and insisted that he worked better when fired by fever. He always complained of cold and chewed peppermint by the bushel. He also consumed large quantities of licorice. He would go for days without food, then hurriedly bolt enormous meals.

In Egypt and Palestine he went for weeks with little or no food, but drank ten glasses of liquor a day. Back in France he drank forty cups of coffee a day. Once he took no food but milk for a month. Another month he ate nothing but meat. When lumps of ice failed to relieve his indigestion, he drank bolsals of chocolate. He persistently refused to take exercise and habitually locked himself in unventilated rooms.

It is Dr. van Borne's belief that much of Napoleon's energy came from his illness, which spurred him to almost superhuman activity.
Whether this be the explanation, or whether his genius enabled Napoleon to rise above the handicap of ill health, we may never know. His handicap, however, that only an extraordinary person could have survived the afflictions and self-neglect Napoleon went through, to say nothing of duplicating his achievements—

"Do you think the use of money in an elec-

"No," answered Miss Cayenne. "An exaggerated ostentation of wealth is vulgar in

"John, did you mail that letter I gave you?"
"Yes, dear. I remember very distinctly mailing it in the first mail box I came to. You can see for yourself that it isn't in any of my pockets."

"That will do, John. I gave you no letter."
"Miss, you were doing sixty miles an hour."
"Oh, isn't that splendid! I only learned to Wife—"Haven't you an umbrella?"

Husband—"Thank heaven, no."

Chills Often Dangerous.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Many persons regard illness and disease as too lightly. Too many neglect a chill, a headache, utter weariness and even pain. Nothing is done because it does not seem convenient to give time to getting well.

Perhaps the most of us do not appreciate good health until we lose it. It is a mistake to spend too much time thinking about your state of health. But it is wise to heed Nature's warning and quickly act when some indisposition attacks you.

Plurisy is a disagreeable ailment. An attack, though painful, may not be serious.
Other attacks are very serious indeed.
Worry and hard work lower the vitality.
Cold, exposure to the weather and fatigue are frequent causes of plurisy.

It is a disease that usually accompanies pneumonia, or other attacks upon the lung tissue. It has a relationship to tuberculosis.
I tell you this so that you will realize the importance of the disease. It may be a warning to take the steps necessary for recovery from a pleurisy attack.

The disease is really an inflammation of the "pleura." This tissue is the membrane that covers the inside walls of the chest cavity.
In this space are located the lungs and these, too, are covered by pleural tissue.

In an adult, when the attack is not a complication of some other disease, it begins with chilliness, fever, backache, and a bad pain in the side. It is a very sharp, stabbing pain, running from front to back. It may take the form of a stitch in the side, following one or more of the nerves which run between the ribs.
The doctor, with his ear to the chest, detects friction in breathing. There may be accumulation of fluid in the chest. If not, the symptoms will soon disappear.

While some attacks are painful, though not serious, there are others where the accumulation of fluid, or "effusion" is very great. This condition is a serious matter.

A most important factor in the treatment of the disease is quiet rest in bed. The doctor will see that the chest is bandaged or strapped so as to restrict the motion of the chest in breathing. This procedure will lessen the pain.

I want to make it very clear that pleurisy should not be neglected. If your doctor tells you to keep quiet, you should do exactly as he says. Help Nature all you can by assisting her in the process of getting well.—Copyright,

Delphos in 1845 and Now.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

Though the city of Delphos shows up now in the health statistics of the state as about as healthful as any, it is said that probably no other site proposed for a municipality in the state was more unpromising when the project was first set forth.

Nothing but the construction of the Miami and Erie canal through the section could have suggested the location of a town there. It was known on the canal survey merely as section 10, and that was the only name that it had for some years.

Malaria was the main trouble. The ground was swampy and difficult to drain. It is said even yet that without quinine Delphos would have been an impossibility even for some years after it was located. The mosquitoes in the vicinity formed ideal breeding beds for mosquitoes, which were now known as the conveyors of the germs of ague to their victims. Even the dogs about section 10 are said to have contracted ague and either died or led listless lives. It is not on record elsewhere that dogs were affected by ague, but Delphos dogs had all the symptoms.

Most of the first settlers were members of the Catholic church, and in December, 1845, thirty-five persons then living at the place met in one of the cabins and organized a church, under the leadership of Rev. John O. Bredek.
It served the community until 1850, when a more pretentious structure was erected in its place.

It is interesting to note that Samuel Forrer, one of the principal engineers in the construction of the Ohio canals, became a resident of Delphos. The country about Delphos is now well-drained and highly cultivated. It is the most noted honey-producing district in the state, bee-keepers there shipping out many carloads of honey of high quality every year.

Chance and Design.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

One of the persistent problems which continue to haunt the human mind is the problem of chance and design. There is no way to tell whether the toss of a coin will give heads or tails. There is no way to predict with certainty whether the baby to be born will be a boy or a girl. Writers of probability have expressed the opinion, however, that after a long succession of a coin falling heads, a change to tails is imminent. But this can not be true, if the toss is fair. No previous toss can affect the next toss. If a coin has fallen heads a hundred times in succession, the next toss is as likely to be heads as tails. In the long run, as we say—although we don't know how long the run may be—there will be as many tails as heads.

This is very difficult to believe, namely that each toss is entirely unaffected by what has gone before. Yet the fair player finds it comprehensible that a hand containing thirty-seven cards all of one suit is not more unlikely than any other combination of cards. The probability of one hand is the same as the probability of any other.

At Monte Carlo, a definite maximum is arbitrarily established. This is not done solely to give the bank an advantage, but partly to set a limit to the play. Otherwise enormous cash reserves would have to be kept by the bank.
Furthermore, it is true enough that there is an advantage to the bank in the small stakes.
Many players favor progressions, or martingale games, as they are called. In these martingales, there is an increased stake after a loss. The simplest progression is the system of doubling the stake after each loss. Even win gives a net profit of one, if the stakes run 1, 2, 4, 8, 16, 32. The system breaks down if, after a succession of losses, the next stake would exceed the permitted maximum.

Many players scorn the results of mathematical theory, and attach no faith to them.
But observation, for a sufficiently great number of spins of a roulette wheel, for example, shows that theory and practice are in excellent accord.

It is an extraordinary fact, confirmed by both theory and practice, that when a color has appeared five or more times in succession, the probability of a repetition of a color is the same as it was before, one-half.

Of the various schemes devised to circumvent the maximum, one of the best known is said to have been invented by the French mathematician D'Alembert. This system enjoins an increase of one after a loss and a decrease of one after a gain. Thus the progression would be 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, for a series of five losses, followed by 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, for a series of five gains, which would give a net profit of twenty-five minus equals five. It would be easy to make up other cases. Unfortunately zero tells heavily against this system, which requires prolonged playing. The plan has been pronounced worthless by experts, chiefly because a favorable long run does not compensate for a subsequent unfavorable long run.
If there are frequent changes and no long runs, the system may succeed.—Copyright, 1930, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

PREPARES TO GREET HOOVER

Cleveland To Be Host to President at Bankers' Convention.

By International News Service
CLEVELAND, Sept. 16—For the first time in 14 years a president will officially visit Cleveland Oct. 2, when Herbert Hoover, chief executive of the United States, comes here to speak before the American Bankers' association convention.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the event, which is expected to be highly significant in more than one way. Mr. Hoover's utterances will come in the midst of the nation-wide campaign for senate and house. It is believed probable, however, that he will make the bankers' convention a forum to discuss American business in the light of the aftermath of the recent depression.

Thousands Expected
More than 1,000 bankers and their wives from all parts of the country will attend the convention here before which the president will speak.

PHILLIPS
Indigestion
Immediate Relief!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crumbly helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes most times its volume in acid.

Arrangements for Mr. Hoover's visit to the Goodyear-Zepplin dock at Akron to inspect the navy's giant dirigible, ZRS-4, which is now under construction.
The presidential party, it was understood, will include Mrs. Hoover, and probably one of the president's stenographers, half a dozen secret service men and newspaper men.

First Since 1918
Mr. Hoover will be the first president to address the bankers' association while in office and he will be the first president to make an official visit to Cleveland since 1918, when Woodrow Wilson came here to deliver a preparedness address at Cleveland's Gray's armory.

President Harding visited Cleveland once after he had been elected but before he had taken office. William Howard Taft spoke here once after leaving office.

Delegates to the bankers' convention are expected to begin arriving in Cleveland on Sunday, Sept. 28. Among the plans for the entertainment of the visitors during the week's convention are motor trips, a boxing exhibition, a polo match, a musical fashion review, a golf tournament and a ball.

Ohio Boy
Amazes Mother

"Marion's stomach was often upset and he suffered a lot with headaches," says Mrs. E. J. Messelbine, 7031 72nd Ave., Cleveland. "He was feverish and his breath was bad. I found he was constipated."

"A friend told me about California Fig Syrup, so I got some for Marion. It surely surprised me to see how quickly it stopped his feverishness, cleared his breath and tongue, regulated his bowels; made him a strong and energetic boy again."

The quick, safe way to cleanse and regulate the bowels of bilious, head aches, constipated children is with California Fig Syrup. Give it at the first sign of bad breath, constipation, listlessness or feverishness. Every child loves its rich, fruit flavor and it acts without causing discomfort. Appetite is increased, bowels are regular, stomach and bowels are given tone and strength.

For fifty years, doctors have endorsed this pure vegetable product. The genuine is always marked by the word California. Look for the boy buying or you may get an imitation.

PRESIDENTS GROOM FOR GRID OPENER

TOLEDO CENTRAL TO BE FIRST OPPONENT

Locals Confronted by Tough Schedule; Morgan Given Quarter Post.

With the actual start of a long campaign of 10 tough football games on consecutive Saturdays looming upon the horizon, Harding and his staff are looking for a high grid mentor to be the first opponent to have them in the heat possible shape for the opening contest this Saturday.

Toledo Central will furnish the opposition for the initial encounter of this season and from reports coming from the camp of the Irish it will be opposition and nothing short of it. The Irish for the last several years have had a way about them—the way consisting mainly of ability to score touchdowns.

BOARD REFUSES TO ALLOW PROTEST OF LEE STREET TEAM

Votes Unanimously To Uphold Decision of Umpires; Plan for Banquet.

To the expressed satisfaction of the managers of both the baseball teams concerned, the city baseball commission last night voted unanimously to decline to allow the recent protest filed by the Lee Street Presbyterians concerning a certain play made during the final game of the recent world series here.

The play in question caused a ruling to be made at the time by the umpires favoring the Roundhouse club, eventual winners of the game and of the city championship. The Lee Street team was charged by Lee Street with having interfered with Wade Conkles' attempt to field a fly ball.

At the airing given the protest last night by the commission testimony of persons connected with the handling of the game brought out the feeling that there had been no interference on the part of Robins. Most managers of the ball clubs issued statements following the meeting expressing the fact that they believed the proper action had been taken by the ruling board.

Plan Banquet
Aside from the ruling on the protest the commission made plans for the annual presentation dinner at which time it is planned to award the pennants to the four pennant winning teams of the 1936 season.

Calvary Sunday school will be given the pennant for winning Sunday School League No. 1; Lee Street the pennant for winning No. 2 league; Kappa Alpha Phi for winning the Commercial League; and the Erie Roundhouse club the pennant for winning the race in the Industrial circuit. The latter team will also be given a trophy and the pennant of the city championship.

The members of the squad will be given individual medals for their work with the team. These presentations will be made during the course of the banquet scheduled for the Y. M. C. A. two weeks from last night. The members of the four winning aggregations will be guests of the dinner.

Any of these candidates may find themselves shifted around and some of them may even be relegated to the bench if they do not match stride with several promising youngsters. Haden, now working hard for the second stringers of the backfield post shows promise of developing into a good back. Forrest, second string tackle is going to make plenty of competition for the first string linemen although it is hardly probable he will force either Smith or Clay to the bench. He may leave the way open for the transforming of either of them into a crushing fullback, a position which is badly in need of weight.

Haden is a good football player but he is too light for the fullback post if a heavier man can be found who can be spared to replace him. He would go great at one of the halfback posts.

RISKO BEATEN

By The Associated Press. OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 16.—The jabbing left hand of Babe Hunt Oklahoma's towering heavyweight, has triumphed over the two-fisted attack of Johnny Risko, Cleveland baker boy.

Hunt piled up a commanding lead in the opening rounds of a ten rounder last night and several times had his opponent apparently groggy, but was unable to administer a knockout. The Oklahoma man was credited with a wide margin in at least five rounds.

That many applications for world series seats were stacked away yesterday in the Cubs' offices, not to be opened until the club either does or does not, get up there.

FANS BACK HOPES

TO PLAY ERIE

The Marion all-stars baseball team will play the Erie Roundhouse on Sept. 25 at Lincoln park. Robert Putnam is manager of the All-star team which has won a majority of its games this summer.

ON THE INSIDE

With Bob Kirkpatrick

During the last few weeks rumors have been more rampant than necessary for the good of the game, concerning possible mismanagement by the baseball commission of the funds gained by it through admissions charged for benefit baseball games and through the world series classics. Probably if the individuals who are prone to start these false accusations or who even take stock in such absurd statements could be given a few of the true facts they might be less wrought up about the situation. Just for the benefit of these persons we are publishing a few of the major expense items of the commission for this season.

Here's the Account
Approximately $750 was expended for balls, about 480 being the total number purchased. Maintenance of the fields and parks cost nearly $150 and you can add another half a hundred for playing equipment such as bases, masks for umpires, etc. The banquets given for the four winning teams and the dinner given each spring total about $150. The secretary of the commission, incidentally not a member of that body, is given for $175 for his work in caring for the details of the organization. Anyone that thinks he doesn't earn that amount might try the job of securing an umpire for each game and the rest of the multitude of details that go with the position. If anyone can total less than $1,000 out of those few expenditures they should be put on the commission.

Think This Over

IT MIGHT BE WELL TO REMEMBER THE FOUR CHILDREN WHO WERE SENT TO THE Y. M. C. A. CAMP THIS SUMMER AT A COST OF $10 EACH. THIS WAS NO IDLE GESTURE ON THE PART OF THE COMMISSION. The commission deserves a lot of credit for the businesslike manner in which it does its work. It is running the game on a profitable basis to be sure but it is also improving the game each season as the increasing totals in gate receipts will amply testify.

Lee Street Protest

While on the question of criticism it might be a good thing to say something about the protest of Lee Street's which was overruled last night by the commission.

The Lee Street manager, E. B. McCoy, stated convincingly that the protest was not attempting to take an unfair advantage of the Roundhouse club. After admitting that there was more than a slight possibility that his protest was without sufficient ground to warrant its being upheld, he promised that any decision given by the ruling group would be accepted as fair by his team.

The Erie manager, Horsey Williams, also presented his side of the argument in a manner which shows why recreational baseball is gaining such a hold in this city. Team managers with such a spirit as these two can not help but increase the popularity of the sport.

Here is the exact statement of McCoy's, given to the Sports Editor immediately following the announcement of the decision of the commission.

McCoy Statement
"Lee Street will abide by the decision of the commission knowing that it was given in all fairness after the facts of the case were considered. We have no 'kick' coming and are entirely satisfied. We'll be up in No. 1 church league next year trying all over again." And for that McCoy, we all hope to see you battling for the pennant next season. Your team has earned the right to it.

NOTRE DAME COACH EXPECTS BIG THINGS OF FOOTBALL SQUAD

Rockne Admits Possibility of National Championship; Backfield Good.

By The Associated Press. SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 16.—No bear stories for Knute Rockne, the "vital viking" of Notre Dame. The sturdy horseman, back at the helm after a long illness from infection which kept him off the sidelines last fall, has another great football squad this fall and what's more, he admits it. He believes his big army of ramblers, 120 strong, has a big chance to sweep through another "suicide" schedule for a second successive mythical national football championship.

Southern Methodist, Navy, Carnegie Tech, Pittsburgh, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Drake, Northwestern, Army and Southern California, most of them potential national championship contenders in the 1936 campaign—must be conquered on successive Saturdays. Yet Rockne and his warblers believe they can turn the trick with a reasonable amount of so-called breaks.

Team Has Punch

"We're going to have another good team this fall and I don't see any reason why I shouldn't admit it," Rockne said. "Of course we expect to win all our games. We do have the punch and ability. Still to get through a schedule like that we've got to get some nice breaks now and then, especially in the Carnegie Tech and Southern California I'm worrying about those two."

General indications and past performance indicate that Notre Dame will have an even more spectacular backfield this fall than last year although the line may or may not measure up to that of the great 1925 team. Of the backfield last fall only one man, the fleet Jack Elder, whose long run bent the Army, will be missing. Quarterback Carleton, fullbacks Mullins and Savoldi, and halfbacks Dril, Schwartz, O'Connor and Kaplan will be back and will be aided, if not supplanted, by an exceedingly promising flock of sophomores. Rockne appears to have no worry whatsoever about ground gaining talent.

The line, however, will need many strong replacements.

BROOKLYN WINS TO SET SEASON MARK

13 Straight Wins Beats Former Record Set by Mackmen in 1930.

By ORLO ROBERTSON Associated Press Sports Writer

Once more the pace setters, the Brooklyn Robins, today faced the difficult task of turning back the threatening St. Louis Cardinals, as they did the Chicago Cubs last week, if they are to be the first team under the wire in the boiling National league pennant race.

The Robins, boasting a season's record winning streak of 11 games, today held a one-game margin over the Cards and one and one-half game advantage over the third place Cubs.

While the Robins and Cardinals are battling in a three-game series, the Cubs will be called upon to meet the Giants, all but eliminated from the race but still clinging to that mathematical possibility.

OHIO STATE COACH SEEKS FAST BACKS

Forward Wall of Scarlet and Gray Team Strongest in Years.

By International News Service. COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 16.—The attention of Coach Sam Williamson and his assistants centered today on the rounding out of a capable backfield that will back up one of the best forward walls in the nation.

Some new prospects reported to the mentors yesterday as the 1936 campaign was opened with the first drill of the early training season. Eighty-three men were issued uniforms yesterday and several late-comers were expected to report within the week, boosting the squad to about 100 youthful athletes, who will seek fame and glory for the Scarlet and Gray this season.

Only one regular backfield man has returned. He is Stuart Holcomb, of Erie, Pa., who gained fame last year as a sophomore fullback. The question of ball-toters is a serious one. Williamson hopes he has the answer in five sophomores who show exceptional promise.

Sola Looks Good
Holcomb may be replaced at the fullback berth by a fellow-townsmen, Olavi Sola, a 200-pounder who looks like the plunging fullback that is needed.

Sola looked good in yesterday's short practice sessions. He gave an excellent exhibition of ball-carrying.

Low Hinchman and Bill Carroll, stars of the 1935 freshman team, are flashy backs, especially the latter, who is scheduled to win one of the regular posts behind the line.

RESUME WRESTLING IN SHOVEL ARENA CARD LOOKS GOOD

Chinese Star Battles Fishbaugh in Finish Match

Domar Wrestles Hassan
Two husky boys will jump the ropes tonight in the main event which will mark the resumption of the Marion Steam Show wrestling schedule for the fall season.

And from the starting gong, a main affair will carry a theme action for it brings together Fishbaugh, the Newark coach and Walter Achlu, the Chin football star.

They are matched to a finish and what a finish it may turn out to be. This Fishbaugh, if Marion fans can remember his many appearances here last year, is as rough as any wrestler dare. There is no playing around for Fishbaugh—or with him, as far as that goes. He will be in the win. How, it makes little difference.

Achlu Tough

Bringing a style all his own combining tactics familiar with the gridiron and the mystery holds of his mother country, Achlu has been able to take care of himself with ease in a majority of matches in the past.

Both men are plenty rough. This is the style which went big with the fans last year. It is their reckless daring to give a match and then take all the action has in return which makes them ideal headline attractions.

Action again will be the theme in the semi-final tangle that will bring together Jack Domar, Texas and Earl Hassan of Huntington, W. Va. — they are roundly ready wallovers.

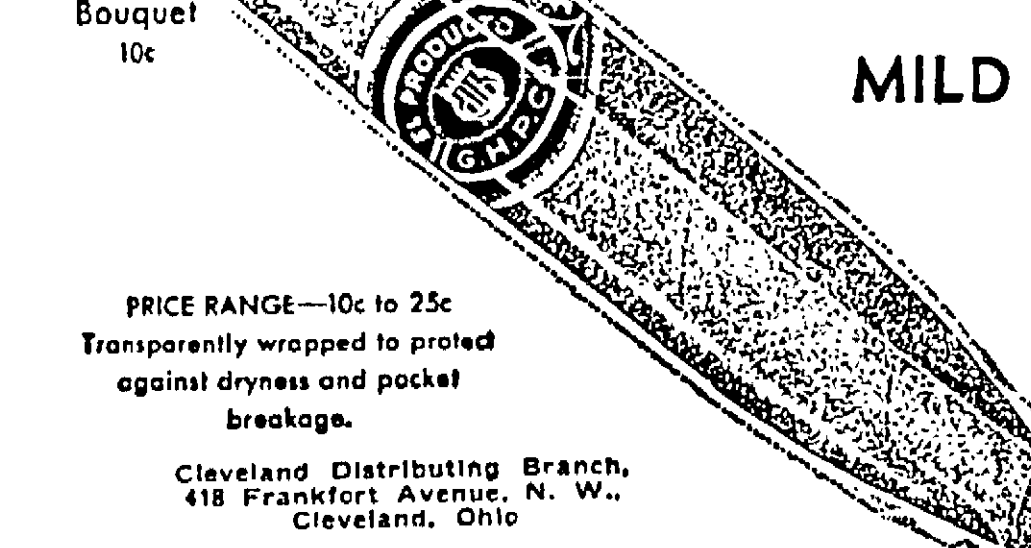

The show will be staged at the Shovel gym on West Center street. The preliminary bout will be at 8:15.

Paul McBrayer, Kentucky's all-Southern basketball guard, will try out for an end on the football team.

SCOUTS TO USHER AT FOOTBALL GAMES

Details of 20 Harding Area Boys To Aid at O. S. U. Stadium.

Following the custom of the Ohio State University athletic department in former years of allowing Boy Scouts throughout the state to usher at the various home football games of the university grid season, Scout Executive W. C. Brown has received notice that 20 boys from Harding area will make up the detail of local Scouts to usher at the games in Columbus this year. There are four home games on the Ohio State schedule this season, exclusive of the opening game with Mt. Union, allowing 80 boys of Marion to attend one football game at Ohio State in return for their services in ushering. The 80 boys who will make the trips to the games will be chosen from the number who were in attendance during the past summer at the local Boy Scout camp. They will be chosen by lot from the approximate number of 120 boys who are eligible.

Scout Executive Brown is issuing notices today to the various scoutmasters of the area to meet in the scout headquarters on South State street Saturday at 7 p. m. for the purpose of choosing the boys who will usher during this year.

NOW SEE WHAT KONJOLA DID FOR THIS MAN

Lost Twenty Pounds in Two Months—Had to Quit Work—Then New Medicine Brings Relief

MR. JOHN FABEY

"Five weeks ago I was a greatly discouraged man," said Mr. John Fabey, 12208 Oakfield avenue, Cleveland. "I had indigestion, constipation, heart palpitation, and loss of appetite. I lost twenty pounds in two months. After every meal came gas, bloating and distress. For two weeks I had to give up my job as a buffer. I was very nervous and loathed food. I had about come to the conclusion that there was no help for me, but I kept reading so much about Konjola that I decided to give this new medicine a trial. With the first bottle I felt a change for the better, and as the treatment progressed all my ills faded away one by one. I eat and sleep well and get up thoroughly rested. I can eat anything without misery or distress, and I am working harder than ever and enjoying it. My family joins me in this word of praise for Konjola."

Konjola is a new and different medicine containing the juices of 22 natural plants combined with other medicinal ingredients. Konjola works with the sufferer's food and eliminates poisons and restores normal activity to the important functional organs.

Konjola is sold in Marion, O., at Stump & Sams Pharmacy, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section—Adv.
